ALERT – Beware of False Maryland Insurance Administration Website

(February 6, 2012) – The Maryland Insurance Administration recently became aware of a website offering licensing renewal services. This site, which tells users to run an executable file (.exe) to renew their licenses, is not in any way affiliated with the Maryland Insurance Administration. Running the file may cause severe damage to a computer.

The correct website for the Maryland Insurance Administration is www.mdinsurance.state.md.us. At this site, companies and producers can conduct all business.

At the correct website, select the Producer tab to find links for online licensing. These links will take you to the National Insurance Producers Registry and the State Based Systems websites, the only online producer registration services used by the Maryland Insurance Administration.
